Forward-Looking Statements; Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The following information is current as of September 30, 2019 (unless otherwise noted) and should be read in connection with Navient Corporation's "Navient" Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2018 (the "2018 Form 10-K"), filed by Navient with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on February 26, 2019 and subsequent reports filed by Navient with the SEC. Definitions for capitalized terms in this presentation not defined herein can be found in the 2018 Form 10-K. This presentation contains "forward-looking statements", within the meaning of the federal securities laws, about our business, and other information that is based on management's current expectations as of the date of this presentation. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about the company's beliefs, opinions or expectations and statements that assume or are dependent upon future events, are forward-looking statements and often contain words such as "expect," "anticipate," "intend," "plan," "believe," "seek," "see," "will," "would," "may," "could," "should," "goal," or "target." Forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties, assumptions and other factors that may cause actual results to be materially different from those reflected in such forward-looking statements.

For Navient, these factors include, among others, the risks and uncertainties associated with:

- increases in financing costs;
- the availability of financing or limits on our liquidity resulting from disruptions in the capital markets or other factors;
- unanticipated increases in costs associated with compliance with federal, state or local laws and regulations;
- changes in the demand for asset management and business processing solutions or other changes in marketplaces in which we compete (including increased competition);
- changes in accounting standards including but not limited to changes pertaining to loan loss reserves and estimates or other accounting standards that may impact our operations;
- adverse outcomes in any significant litigation to which the company is a party;
- credit risk associated with the company's underwriting standards or exposure to third parties, including counterparties to hedging transactions; and
- changes in the terms of education loans and the educational credit marketplace (including changes resulting from new laws and the implementation of existing laws).

The company could also be affected by, among other things:

- unanticipated repayment trends on loans including prepayments or deferrals in our securitization trusts that could accelerate or delay repayment of the bonds;
- reductions to our credit ratings, the credit ratings of asset-backed securitizations we sponsor or the credit ratings of the United States of America;
- failures of our operating systems or infrastructure or those of third-party vendors;
- risks related to cybersecurity including the potential disruption of our systems or those of our third-party vendors or customers or potential disclosure of confidential customer information;
- damage to our reputation resulting from cyber-breaches, litigation, the politicization of student loan servicing or other actions or factors;
- failure to successfully implement cost-cutting initiatives and adverse effects of such initiatives on our business;
- failure to adequately integrate acquisitions or realize anticipated benefits from acquisitions including delays or errors in converting portfolio acquisitions to our servicing platform;
- changes in law and regulations whether new laws or regulations or new interpretations of existing laws and regulations applicable to any of our businesses or activities or those of our vendors, suppliers or customers;
- changes in the general interest rate environment, including the availability of any relevant money-market index rate, including LIBOR, or the relationship between the relevant money-market index rate and the rate at which our assets are priced;
- our ability to successfully effectuate any acquisitions and other strategic initiatives;
- activities by shareholder activists, including a proxy contest or any unsolicited takeover proposal;
- changes in general economic conditions; and
- the other factors that are described in the "Risk Factors" section of the 2018 Form 10-K and in our other reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The preparation of the company's consolidated financial statements also requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions including estimates and assumptions about future events. These estimates or assumptions may prove to be incorrect and actual results could differ materially. All forward-looking statements contained in this release are qualified by these cautionary statements and are made only as of the date of this release. The company does not undertake any obligation to update or revise these forward-looking statements except as required by law.

Navient reports financial results on a GAAP basis and also provides certain non-GAAP performance measures, including Core Earnings, Tangible Net Asset Ratio, and various other non-GAAP financial measures derived from Core Earnings. When compared to GAAP results, Core Earnings exclude the impact of: (1) mark-to-market gains/losses on derivatives; and (2) goodwill and acquired intangible asset amortization and impairment. Navient provides Core Earnings measures because this is what management uses when making management decisions regarding Navient's performance and the allocation of corporate resources. Navient Core Earnings are not defined terms within GAAP and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies. For additional information, see Core Earnings in Navient's third quarter earnings release and pages 46-50 of this presentation for a further discussion and a complete reconciliation between GAAP net income and Core Earnings.

Higher Education Industry

Federal government is the largest consumer lender, owning or guaranteeing $1.4 trillion in student loans

- Federal loan interest rates, limits and terms are set by Congress.
- All federal loans are issued directly by the U.S. Department of Education since 2010 when federally guaranteed loans ended.
- Federal loans have no traditional underwriting, and no truth in lending disclosures.
- The number of federal borrowers is up by 51 percent since 2007.

Total student loan originations, by type

The increasing dominance of federal student loan originations versus private loans reflects the federal government's massive involvement in student loans: it owns or guarantees 92 percent of the $1.6 trillion outstanding in student loans.

In its role as a student loan servicer, Navient helps borrowers successfully repay their loans

Servicers begin helping borrowers navigate repayment after important financial decisions about the total cost and experience of their education have already been made.

There are solutions to many of the challenges faced by borrowers

5 recommendations to improve student loan program success:

1 Provide more front-end resources to improve decision making.

Students and their families need tools to understand how much they'll need to borrow to earn the degree—not simply the current semester—and to assess the likely economic benefits of a chosen field. This kind of information will help students and parents make a more informed assessment about what they can afford.

2 Improve the college completion rate

Just 6 out of 10 bachelor's degree students graduate in six years. Borrowers who struggle the most are often non-completers with low levels of debt. Schools should have some skin in the game when students do not complete and are unable to repay. Many colleges are experimenting with novel approaches to improve graduation rates and should be encouraged and rewarded.

3 Simplify repayment.

Currently, the government offers 16 repayment plans, 9 forgiveness programs, and 33 deferment and forbearance options—each with its own nuances, payment schedules, qualifications, and complex enrollment criteria.

They should be and can be simplified. For example, collapsing the multiple income-driven repayment options into one plan with the most appropriate borrower-friendly terms would be a good start.

4 Help borrowers pay off early.

In the rush to help student borrowers, too many have trumpeted lower payments over longer periods as the universal solution despite the higher interest costs many borrowers will pay. We need programs that help struggling borrowers through short-term and long-term challenges, but anyone enrolling should understand the trade-offs to be able to make the right choice for their financial circumstances.

5 Encourage borrowers to engage with their loan servicers.

Default is avoidable, but borrower contact is key. As a servicer, we've found that nine times out of 10, when we reach struggling federal loan borrowers we are able to help them avoid default by getting them into a repayment plan that works for them. Contact works; let's encourage it.

Navient's default prevention expertise has been a key factor in the decline of the national default rate

- The cohort default rate (CDR) measures the percent of borrowers who defaulted on a student loan within three years of entering repayment.
- In 2019, the Department of Education announced the 2016 CDR was 10.1%, a decrease from the previous year (10.8%).
- The CDR for Navient-served customers was 6.8 percent, 37 percent lower than the national rate excluding Navient-served borrowers.
- Our outreach to borrowers is key. Nine times out of 10, if we can reach a struggling borrower, we can help him or her avoid default.

2016 three-year cohort default rate

Source: "Official Cohort Default Rates for Schools," Federal Student Aid, 9/25/19; Navient data. The 2016 Cohort Default Rate analyzes data from the group of borrowers who entered repayment between Oct. 1, 2015, and Sept. 30, 2016, and who defaulted in a three-year window by fall of 2018. To isolate the difference in defaults between Navient borrowers and others, the difference is calculated by removing Navient's marketshare from the overall national cohort default rate; the resulting CDR for non-Navient serviced borrowers is 10.9%.

The borrowers who struggle most are often non-completers with less than $10,000 in debt

Borrowers who do not complete a degree default at a rate almost three times higher than borrowers who earned a degree ...

Borrowers in default by attainment

... As a result, borrowers who run into trouble repaying usually have below-average amounts of debt.

We've piloted solutions to reduce complexity

IDR eSign Enrollment

Navient launched a pilot program focusing on past-due FFELP borrowers to explore whether a simpler process could produce better results. Under the pilot, we made contact with the borrower, gathered salary and family information over the phone, and then pre-populated the IDR application. We then securely transmitted the pre-filled application to the borrower for electronic signature. We have now rolled out the program to assist past-due borrowers across the FFELP portfolio.

The eSign pilot nearly tripled IDR application return rates

55% return the application within a single day.

71% of applications completed within 10 days.

Long-term Capital Allocation Philosophy

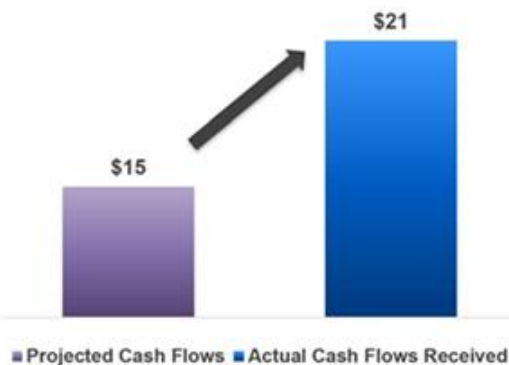

Consistently balance capital adequacy with capital allocation opportunities, including dividends, organic growth, stock repurchases and acquisitions

- ✓ Execute dynamic capital allocation policy to maintain appropriate leverage that supports our credit ratings and enhances ongoing access to unsecured debt markets
 - Execute TNA ratio ¹ within guidance
 - Critical to delivering shareholder value
- ✓ Maintain dividend
- ✓ Invest capital generated from legacy portfolio and operating businesses among the following:
 - Loan growth (portfolio acquisitions and originations); Share repurchases; Investments that exceed our return hurdle
- ✓ Committed to ensuring excess capital is returned to shareholders

¹ TNA is a non-GAAP financial measure. See note 4 on slide 50.

Actual Cash Flows From Our Education Loan Portfolio Are Exceeding Initial Projections

Projected vs. Actual Cash Flows Received from June 30, 2014 to December 31, 2018
($'s in Billions)

Since separation, Navient has primarily used excess cash flows to reduce unsecured debt and return capital to shareholders¹

Additional cash flows of $6 billion were generated primarily by enhanced financing activity and acquisitions of additional education loan portfolios

¹From June 30, 2014 through December 31, 2018.
Note: Capital held for education loans acquired assumes equity of 50 basis points for $24 billion of FFELP loans, 5% for $3 billion of Private Education Refinance Loans, and 10% for $4 billion of Private Education Loans.

Navient Stafford & PLUS Loan Prepayments

- Annualized CPRs for Stafford/PLUS ABS trusts have decreased from pre-2008 levels as incentives for borrowers to consolidate have declined
- Higher prepayment activity in mid-2012 was related to the short term availability of the Special Direct Consolidation Loan program
- Prepayments increases occurred in 2015 and 2018 as we exercised our option to purchase assets from selected transactions to mitigate the risk that certain tranches might remain outstanding past their legal final maturity dates

* Quarterly CPR assumes School and Grace loans are not scheduled to make payments. Deferment, Forbearance and Repayment loans are scheduled to make payments.

Navient Consolidation Loan Prepayments

- CPRs for Consolidation ABS trusts declined significantly following legislation effective in 2006 that prevented in-school and re-consolidation of borrowers' loans
- Higher prepayment activity in mid 2012 was related to the short term availability of the Special Direct Consolidation Loan program

* Quarterly CPR assumes School and Grace loans are not scheduled to make payments. Deferment, Forbearance and Repayment loans are scheduled to make payments.

Notes on Non-GAAP Financial Measures

(Dollars in Millions)

In addition to financial results reported on a GAAP basis, Navient also provides certain performance measures which are non-GAAP financial measures. The following non-GAAP financial measures are presented within this Presentation:

1. Core Earnings – The difference between the company's Core Earnings and its GAAP results is that Core Earnings excludes the impacts of: (1) mark-to-market gains/losses on derivatives and (2) goodwill and acquired intangible asset amortization and impairment. Management uses Core Earnings in making decisions regarding the company's performance and the allocation of corporate resources and, as a result, our segment results are presented using Core Earnings. In addition, Navient's equity investors, credit rating agencies and debt capital investors use these Core Earnings measures to monitor the company's business performance. For further detail and reconciliation, see page 51 of this presentation and pages 13-23 of Navient's third-quarter earnings release.

2. Core Earnings Return on Equity (CEROE) – Core Earnings Return on Equity is calculated as Core Net income, excluding restructuring and regulatory-related expenses, divided by the quarterly average of GAAP equity for the trailing four quarters. This measure allows management, as well as investors and analysts, to measure the company's use of its equity. The calculation for Q3 2019 is as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Adjusted Core Earnings Net income}}{\text{Average Equity}} = \frac{$149^{(1)}}{($3,519 + $3,430 + $3,301 + $3,240) / 4} = 18\%^{(2)}$$

i. For a reconciliation to the full year 2018 Core Earnings Return on Equity, see slide 18 of the full year 2018 earnings presentation, dated January 23, 2019.

3. Core Earnings Efficiency Ratio – The Core Earnings Efficiency Ratio measures the company's Core Earnings Expenses, excluding restructuring and regulatory-related expenses, relative to its Adjusted Core Earnings Revenue. This ratio can be calculated by dividing Core Earnings Expenses, excluding restructuring and regulatory-related expenses, by Adjusted Core Earnings Revenue. Adjusted Core Earnings Revenue is derived by adding provision for loan losses, and excluding gains or loss on debt repurchases, to Total Core Earnings Revenue. This is a useful measure to management as we plan and forecast, as it removes variables that cannot be easily predicted in advance. By using this measure, management can make better short-term and long-term decisions related to expense management and allocation. The calculation for Q3 2019 is as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Adjusted Core Earnings Expense}}{\text{Adjusted Core Earnings Revenue}} = \frac{$244^{(1)}}{$437 + $64} = 49\%$$

i. For a reconciliation to the full year 2018 Core Earnings Efficiency Ratio, see slide 18 of the full year 2018 earnings presentation, dated January 23, 2019.

4. Tangible Net Asset Ratio (TNA) – The Tangible Net Asset Ratio measures the amount of assets available to retire the Company's unsecured debt. Management and Navient's equity investors, credit rating agencies and debt capital investors use this ratio to monitor and make decisions about the appropriate level of unsecured funding. It is measured by dividing Tangible net assets by par unsecured debt. For further detail and reconciliation, see page 22 of Navient's third-quarter earnings release.

5. Earnings before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization Expense ("EBITDA") – This metric measures the operating performance of the Business Processing segment and is used by management and our equity investors to monitor operating performance and determine the value of those businesses. For further detail and reconciliation, see page 23 of Navient's third-quarter earnings release.
